Improving Student Learning through PLC work

- Collaborating with other music teachers both vertically and horizontally has given me a better understanding of the Wisconsin Music Standards.
- Working with other music teachers have given me a better understanding and approach to essential learning targets.
- Working with other specials teachers have given me a better approach towards assessment through data analysis.

Art

Highlights

- Empty Bowls and Art Show
- 8th grade mural
- Every student was showcased in the art show

Improving Student Learning through PLC work

- Networking with other art teachers to thoroughly go over assessments, lesson plans, and different classroom approaches.
- Collaborating with specials teachers to use common assessments for work skills (ex: students can persevere through challenges that arise).
- I have a better understanding and approach to assessment and instruction. This has enabled me to clearly communicate with students and the results are clear in their projects.

Vertical Alignment

- Collaborating with other art teachers has helped me to build a strong, vertically aligned curriculum
- Standards and learning targets build on each other from grade level to grade level
- Example: 1st and 2nd grade learn about the elements of art which helps students explore cultures and types of art in 3rd grade
