

Satellite Education Program

Earn an American high school diploma and real GPA from classrooms in China. Our teachers are certified in school districts across the United States, and prepare students for TOEFL, SAT, ACT, and AP exams in classes limited to 20 kids. Each student is dual-enrolled in an American and Chinese high school, and benefits from the best educational aspects of both countries.

Why SEP?

With recent reforms and the continued growth of China's economy, the domestic demand for highly competent and international talent is increasingly urgent. As such, Chinese parents are ever more concerned about how to fulfill their child's dream of studying abroad, and hope their child can understand and adapt to western culture while preparing for standardized tests like the SAT, increasing the likelihood of acceptance at top tier universities. At SEP, each student is dual-enrolled in an American and Chinese high school, and taught by certified instructors from the United States who engage students in English-language coursework in a small-class setting as well as prepare them for TOEFL, SAT, ACT, and AP exams.

More than a school.

At SEP, we know the high school experience goes beyond education, and as such, our students are immersed in more than just American-style learning; the faculty and administration are committed to providing a multi-faceted cultural adventure. With extracurricular activities from sports to debate teams and opportunities to learn from and engage with an international population of students and family, SEP prepares students for the ever-changing global market like no other high school school can.

Coursework

Chinese Courses:

Chinese, History, Politics, Geography

American Courses:

Writing, English Literature, American Literature, World History, American History, European History, Geometry, Algebra 1, Algebra 2, Biology, Chemistry, Physics

In addition to the Core Courses, students will take electives to round out their education. Offerings vary by location but include art, music, architecture, fashion, culinary, ecology, foreign language, woodworking, computer programming, law, psychology, economics, as well as many others.

Mentoring for your future.

Getting ready to go to university is daunting; we know, we've all been there, too. At SEP, our faculty and staff are here to help you prepare for the next step in your education. We are proud to provide you with more than just an American learning experience, we also guide you through the application processes for universities and scholarships, and - more importantly - help you answer those difficult questions: who am I, and who do I want to be? Your future is waiting for you, and our singular aim is to get you there.
